

Engraved plan, original hand-colour in outline, dissected and mounted on linen, folding into original red cloth covers with loss to spine and upper board.

RARE PLAN OF MULTAN PUBLISHED AT THE BEGINNING OF THE SECOND ANGLO-SIKH WAR

Sketch of the Fortifications of Moultan.

Author
WYLD, James

Publication date
Nov. 4th, 1848.

Publisher
Published by James Wyld, Geographer to the Queen, Charing Cross East,

Publication place
London,

Physical description
Engraved plan, original hand-colour in outline, dissected and mounted on linen, folding into original red cloth covers with loss to spine and upper board.

Dimensions
480 by 620mm (19 by 24.5 inches).

Notes
A detailed plan of Multan, a city in the South Punjab in Pakistan, depicting the defences and gun emplacements. It also has suggestions for taking the city by siege by the placement of artillery on several of the surrounding mounds and hillocks.

Rare; we were only able to trace one institutional example of the plan in the British Library.

Bibliography
BLMC Maps 57670.(1.)

Provenance

Price:

Inventory reference: 2004

© Daniel Crouch Rare Books Ltd | 2025