

Coloured lithograph map dissected into 32 (4 by 8) sections mounted on linen.

Scale 1:250,000

GENERAL STAFF MAP OF NANKING

Map of Nanking Compiled, drawn and printed at the War Office, 1927.

Author

WAR OFFICE, GEOGRAPHICAL SECTION, GENERAL STAFF

Publication date

1927.

Publisher

War Office, Geographical Section, General Staff,

Publication place

Physical description

Coloured lithograph map dissected into 32 (4 by 8) sections mounted on linen.

Scale 1:250,000

Dimensions

745 by 995mm. (29.25 by 39.25 inches).

Notes

Nanking in 1927 was a treaty port located on the southern shores of the Yangtze River. Because the foreign interests in China were largely American and European, squadrons of foreign naval vessels were stationed along the Yangtze to protect their citizens doing business at the treaty ports. The British Royal Navy operated the China Station under Rear Admiral Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt and the United States Navy the Yangtze Patrol; both lasted for around 80 years until World War II.

Bibliography

Provenance

Price: £3500

Inventory reference: 15017

© Daniel Crouch Rare Books Ltd | 2025